You said.....	Our Response.....
My child always receives the right things for her age. I certainly feel involved in her education and strongly agree with how her education is coming on.	Each child is seen as an individual and we endeavour to adapt our learning to cater to this, encouraging enthusiasm and confidence.
I am very happy and pleased with the management and the school surroundings. They couldn't welcome you anymore if they could try.	This year we have established our senior leadership team, giving the school consistency and strength. We strive to be approachable in all areas of school and make everyone feel welcome.
Handwriting skills is an area for development.	For the next academic year we have some exciting handwriting activities and resources to enhance children's handwriting further.
A diverse choice of subjects and extra curriculum subjects e.g. Shakespeare	We try and give our pupils as much experiences as we can, introducing them to new subjects and ideas.
More out of school activities	This is an area that we are developing and looking at. More details will follow in September.
Some really useful parent workshops this year. Phonics definitely helped me to help my child at home which he has benefitted from.	These will continue next year and we appreciate your participation.
After attending many coffee mornings, I now see that the school as a whole is changing for the better. They have a clear goal and are keen to improve all the time, which is better for every child in the school.	Thank you, we enjoy these events so much and good communication with parents/carers is important to us.

Thank you for your time and continued support.
